*ex Red Cross sale, 8-25 April 1918

Full, round flan with splendid details, even a crisply struck inner circle on obverse. The boy-king's face, hair and crown unusually well defined. Even more impressive is the reverse, with all letters clear and sharp, the inner beaded circle crisp, and the lion and griffin supporting the royal shield truly remarkable, as is the lovely golden colour. First appearance on the market in almost 90 years.

Sotheby's, our research suggests the coin was from this Glendining's auction £2000-2500

A few ancient pecks on the queen's face and tiny scratches at the lower right of the shield, but an excellent specimen of old colour, undisturbed for centuries. No cracks in the flan, as often seen. The legends are clear to a letter, the coin well balanced for quality. First appearance on the market in almost 90 years.

- 132 Elizabeth I, sixth issue, halfcrown, mm. 1, crowned bust l., with orb and sceptre, rev. shield of arms (S.2583; B&C bust 9B), fine to good fine £500-700

- 153 Charles I, unite, Tower mint, mm. lis, first bust crowned l., wearing ruff and collar, mark of value behind, rev. crowned, square-topped, garnished shield (S.2688), nearly extremely fine with an attractive portrait £1000-1200
 *ex Sotheby sale, 29 July 1915 (part lot 130), ex W.H. Sitwell

A few areas of slight striking weakness but unusually well detailed overall and on a round flan, also unusual. Obverse legend especially clear, but some doubling in the reverse letters with a bit of softness at the base of the shield and around the lis initial mark. The colour is a mellow, well-set gold patina.

- 154 Charles I, unite, Tower mint, mm. tower, second bust crowned l., wearing ruff and scarf, mark of value behind, rev. crowned, square-topped, garnished shield (S.2690), nearly extremely fine £1000-1200

A classic example of the Tower initial mark 20-shillings piece, showing lustre and sharp details on much of the king's portrait yet weakness of detail where it is usually located, which must owe its origins more to die-work than to strike as it is so commonly encountered. Not much legend-doubling, and the flan is nice and round, without the normal cracks. The reverse is much nicer than normal, with excellent detail in the central device and only slight doubling in the legend. Pleasing gold colour.

- 155 Charles I, unite, Tower mint, mm. plume, third bust crowned l., wearing ruff and scarf, mark of value behind, rev. crowned, oval, garnished shield, CR at sides (S.2692), a few slight digs in obverse field, otherwise better than very fine £700-900

- 169 Charles I, Newark besieged, shilling, 1645, high-arched crown between CR, mark of value below, rev. OBS NEWARKE, date below (S.3142), trellis-like pattern, (?) from original silver plate, showing beneath strike, flat spot, about very fine, rare £600-800

The colour is a much-desired, well-set ancient grey with hint of blue iridescence. Little actual wear from use.. Sutherland's comments neatly summarise this issue: 'The common factor throughout the coinage of all Charles's provincial mints is the general inferiority in the preparation of the dies and the actual technique of minting. The mints themselves were by nature temporary, often set up in a hurry, and certainly coining in a hurry as soon as bullion became available'. He notes further, however, that Latin still had its influence as a tradition of the coinage, with the letters 'OBS' standing for the Latin 'obsidio', literally 'siege of' and followed by the mint's name, in this case either NEWARK or NEWARKE, which struck emergency silver coins only in 1645 and 1646, surrendering to Cromwell's army in May of 1646.

- 283 Brunswick-Luneburg, George III, 2/3 taler, 1781, Celle, laur. head r., IWS below, rev. crowned shield within garter, supporters at side (KM371) ; Saxony, 2/3 taler, 1693; other foreign silver (3), the first better than very fine, the others fair to fine (5) £80-100
- 284 France, Louis XVI, louis d'or, 1787, Rouen, head l., rev., crowned, conjoined shields (C.83.8); Louis XVIII, 20 francs, 1817, Paris (C.183.1), good very fine or better (2) £100-120

AN INTERESTING GROUP OF ELIZABETHAN COINS – THE PROPERTY OF A GENTLEMAN

- 285 Elizabeth I, first issue, angel, mm. lis, wire-line inner circles, the archangel Michael slaying the dragon, legend reads FRAN...REGI, rev. ship holding shield, cross above, E and rose at sides, legend ends MIRABILE (S.2513; B&C C1), rare but somewhat battered, about fine £500-700

- 286 Elizabeth I, fourth issue, angel, mm. latin cross over greek cross both sides, the archangel Michael slaying the dragon, rev. ship holding shield, cross above, E and rose at sides (S.2525; B&C C18a), better than very fine £1500-1800

- 287 Elizabeth I, fourth issue, angel, mm. latin cross, the archangel Michael slaying the dragon, rev. ship holding shield, cross above, E and rose at sides (S.2525; B&C C19), sweated about fine, reverse better £500-700

- 288 Elizabeth I, fourth issue, quarter angel, mm. sword, the archangel Michael slaying the dragon, rev. ship holding shield, cross above, E and rose at sides (S.2528; B&C E9), scarce denomination and mintmark, cracked about fine, reverse better £300-400

- 289 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, pound, mm. lion and tun / tun, crowned bust of queen I., wearing elaborate dress (B&C 7a), rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2534; B&C F3), very rare, bright, extremely fine or better
£7000-8000

*The addition of the lion mark at the end of the obverse legend probably relates to the legislation of 1575 which introduced the lion passant guardant as a mark for 22-carat gold. These very rare pounds, of which less than twelve are known, were the first issue of crown gold (i.e. 22ct) coins since the legislation was passed. Since all the traced specimens are in at least extremely fine condition, it would seem that they may well have been presentation pieces.

On the obverse, some obvious doubling in the legend from about 2 to 7 o'clock, doubtless made as the flan was repeatedly impressed by the hand-held die. Also, doubling in the 'E' to the left of the shield as well as on some of the letters of the reverse legend. These are actually signs of an especially well-made coin, as the photos show: a crisp portrait of the queen and full details in a boldly impressed reverse shield and crown. The initial marks are also unusually clear.

- 290 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, half pound, mm. tun, crowned bust of queen I., wearing elaborate dress, rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2535; B&C G22), some slight creasing, otherwise very fine or better
£2200-2500

- 291 Elizabeth I, sixth issue, gold halfcrown, mm. 2, crowned bust I., rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2542 ;B&C J23; Schneider – this mintmark not represented), extremely rare, flan slightly irregular, weak in places, otherwise about very fine
£2000-2500

*ex P Finn and Davisson's Auction 17, lot 26

- 292 Elizabeth I, first issue, groat, mm. lis, wire-line and beaded inner circles, very small crowned bust I. (B&C 1g), legend ends REGI, rev. small shield of arms (S.2551A), very scarce, fine / good fine, better than the Shuttlewood example (lot 312)
£150-200

- 293 Elizabeth I, second issue, penny, mm. cross-crosslet, crowned bust l. (B&C 1h), rev. shield of arms (S.2558), toned, good fine / nearly very fine £50-70 *purchased from Baldwin, ex Lockett, lot 3305

- 294 Elizabeth I, third issue, penny, mm. lion (possibly over portcullis on obverse), crowned bust l. (B&C 3i), rev. shield of arms (S.2570), creased, fine, a very rare mintmark £50-70

- 295 Elizabeth I, third issue, penny, mm., acorn, crowned bust l. (B&C5b), rev. shield of arms (S.2570), the first coin to be struck specifically for distribution at the Maundy ceremony and excessively rare, on a full-weight but small flan, dark tone, very fine or better £300-400

Not illustrated in the Spink standard catalogue but the diminutive portrait of the queen is more finely detailed on this specimen than on most of the portrait types illustrated in that volume. An excessively rare coin, possibly only the second known specimen. Pennies of mm. acorn, (and those of mm. eglantine which followed acorn) are undoubtedly the earliest coins struck specifically for the Maundy service. On April 2nd 1574 10 lbs of silver was ordered to be coined into “single pennies” for Elizabeth’s private use. Maundy Thursday fell on April 8th 1574. The acorn mint mark was in use until May 25th 1574 thus it might be expected that around 30 recipients received pennies of this mint mark. (see Symonds: Num. Chron. 1916 p. 78).

Elizabethan Maundy Ceremony (1561)

- 296 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, sixpence, mm. hand, 1590, crowned bust l., rose behind, rev. shield of arms, date above (S.2578A), small figures in date, scarce, somewhat creased otherwise a sharp very fine or better, superior to the Shuttlewood coin (lot 414) £100-120

- 297 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, penny, mm. key / woolpack, crowned bust l. (B&C5b), rev. shield of arms (S.2580), a very rare muling of mintmarks, weak in centres, toned, fine or better £50-70
 *ex SCMB, June 1964, H2360[c]

- 298 Elizabeth I, trade coinage, Portcullis money, four testerns, mm 0, crowned shield of arms, crowned ER at sides, legend ends REGINA·, rev. crowned portcullis, legend ends MEVM· (S.2607B), attractively toned, good very fine or better £2000-2500
*ex Salvesen, Spink Zurich, 1988 (lot 3); Spink 6, 1979 (lot 11); Parsons, Glendining's 1954 (lot 914).

A coin with a most pleasing overall appearance; the legends especially clear, and almost complete outer beaded or toothed rings. The details of the all-important inner devices are boldly detailed, making for an especially desirable specimen.

- 299 Elizabeth I, trade coinage, Portcullis money, testern, mm 0, crowned shield of arms, crowned ER at sides, legend ends REGINA·, rev. crowned portcullis, legend ends MEVM· (S.2607D), sharp, nearly extremely fine and very scarce thus £1800-2000

A wonderful example possessing the qualities recently seen on the best coins in the Slaney Collection. Except for a spike on the bottom right, the portcullis is crisp in strike, of excellent detail. A tiny area of flan at 2 o'clock is missing or 'short', but overall the flan is remarkable. The legend on the signature side, showing the queen's titles, is deeply detailed, the central device is nearly complete, and both rings of denticles or beads are almost fully present.

- 300 Elizabeth I, pattern shilling, mm key, tall, crowned bust of queen I., wearing elaborate dress, legend ends REGI, rev. long cross fourchee over garnished shield of arms (S. -; B&C.P5; N.2044/45mule), an excessively rare mule of the two North types, only two specimens known, on a 32mm flan, toned, very fine or better
purchased from Baldwin, 1960, ex Norweb II, Spink 48, 1985 (lot 371)* £3000-4000

An especially fine appearance as this specimen possesses a round flan and its colour is a mixture of original, ancient patinas in grey. The queen's portrait is finely if delicately rendered, hence is an evocation of its age. Despite some obvious wear, which curiously seems endemic in the earliest milled patterns (indicating commercial use?), this coin offers an excellent balance of sharpness and eye appeal.

- 301 Elizabeth I, pattern shilling, mm key, tall, crowned bust of queen I., wearing elaborate dress, legend ends REGINA, rev. long cross fourchee over garnished shield of arms (S. -; B&C P4; N.2045), a rather battered very fine, very rare £700-900

A COLLECTION OF SOVEREIGNS

- 302 George III, sovereign, 1817, laur. head r., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3785), mint state £800-1000

- 303 George III, sovereign, 1817, laur. head r., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3785), choice, about uncirculated £700-900

- 304 George III, sovereign, 1817, laur. head r., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3785), fine £120-140

- 305 George III, sovereign, 1820, large date, open 2, laur. head r., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3785C), extremely fine, lightly toned £1200-1400

- 306 George III, sovereign, 1820, large date, open 2, laur. head r., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3785C), good fine, lightly polished £140-160

- 307 George IV, sovereign, 1822, laur. head l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3800), just very fine £200-220

- 308 George IV, sovereign, 1823, laur. head l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3800), a very rare date, practically mint state and extremely rare thus £4000-5000

Only the slightest amount of wear is discernible. Tiny bagmarks are to be seen on the base of the king's neck as well as on the figure of St George and on the dragon, but somehow this elusive date escaped most of the ravages of the past two centuries. The colour is a pleasing, mellow orange gold, "set" by time.

- 309 George IV, sovereign, 1824, laur. head l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3800), practically mint state £800-1000

 *ex Noble Numismatics 43, November 1993 (lot 2660)
 ex Spink by private treaty

The first 'sovereign' and therefore one of the classics of British numismatics. Sutherland estimated that perhaps as many as 50,000 were struck in the 1490s and as late as 1508, yet most perished in melting pots as the centuries rolled by and as inflation licked ever more avidly at the wealth of the nation. A pleasant VF coin and, in reality, a miracle of survival. Indeed, very few exist compared to the number of collectors who would like to own one.

- 419 Henry VII, groat, class IVb, London, mm. cross-crosslet, crowned bust facing, rev. long cross, pellets in angles (S.2201), toned, very fine or better £150-180

- 422 Henry VIII, first coinage, angel, mm. portcullis crowned, the archangel Michael slaying the dragon, rev. ship holding shield, cross above, h and rose at sides (S.2265), round, nearly extremely fine £1100-1200

- 423 Henry VIII, third coinage, sovereign, London, mm. lis, king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, rose below, rev. crowned shield of arms with lion and griffin supporters, HR below (S.2290), very fine, with a good portrait £4500-5000

- 424 Henry VIII, third coinage, sovereign, Southwark, mm. E/S, king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, rose below, rev. crowned shield of arms with lion and griffin supporters, HR below (S.2291), scarce, very slightly double-struck, good very fine and bright £5500-6500

While obviously struck several times, a feature so commonly seen on this handmade issue, this coin has an outstanding look, rather remarkable detail in the small portions of the king's face, and a wonderful round flan. As always, the legends are difficult to read. One of the classics of the hammered gold era. For a fascinating peek at the debasement of the coinage which had been so nearly pure during Henry's father's reign, see Sutherland's commentary on pages 133-136 of his 'English Coinage'. During the period 1544-47, when this coin was struck, the sovereign dropped from its former 23.5 ct purity to first 22 ct and then 20 ct fineness, literally the beginning of 'modern' inflation in England.

- 425 Henry VIII, first coinage, groat, mm. castle, crowned bust r., rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2316), toned, very fine or better £200-220

- 428 Henry VIII, third coinage, groat, Tower mint, mm. lis, crowned bust three-quarters facing, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms, annulets in forks (S.2369), toned, nearly extremely fine with a strong portrait £500-550

- 429 Henry VIII, third coinage, groat, Bristol mint, mm. -/WS, crowned bust three-quarters facing, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2372), better than very fine with a good portrait £350-400

- 430 Edward VI, second period, sovereign, mm. Y, king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, rev. crowned shield of arms with lion and griffin supporters, ER below (S.2433), 10.95gms, slightly weak strike across centre, good very fine with a superb portrait of the king £6000-7000

As is the case with many of the other hammered gold coins in this sale, it must be evident to today's viewer that this coin, while not fully detailed in its centres, had to have been carefully saved by a number of former collectors, including the first, who doubtless pulled it from circulation in the 1550s. The coin is full of flan with remnants of lustre. The reverse shares the soft area seen on the obverse, but is equally pleasing and sharp both in the legend and across much of the central design, with the griffin particularly sharp and 'ferocious'.

- 431 Edward VI, second period, half sovereign, mm. arrow, young, uncrowned bust of king r., SCVTVM... legend, rev. crowned, garnished arms, ER at sides, EDWARD VI...legend (S.2435), very fine or better £2300-2500

- 433 Edward VI, third period, fine sovereign, mm. ostrich head, crowned figure of king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, portcullis at feet, rev. shield of arms at centre of full-blown rose (S.2446; N.1926; Schneider 701), 15.03gms, may have been lightly gilt and tooled, about very fine and of the greatest rarity £22000-25000

*ex Noble Numismatics 43, November 1993 (lot 2688); Spink 38, 1983 (lot 6); SNC, September 1979

A coin which is rarely seen, almost never with full round flan, complete and clear legends, and a pleasing throned portrait as found on this specimen. Little actual wear, and some lustre remains among the letters and devices. The curious ostrich head initial mark is particularly clear on the reverse. An important coin.

- 434 Edward VI, third period, half sovereign, mm. tun, half-length crowned portrait of king r., holding orb and shouldering sword, rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2451), good very fine, reverse better

£1500-1700

£2000-2500
*accompanied by a Baldwin ticket, cost £4/10/-

Round flan without cracks. Ancient medium grey toning. The horseman figure of the king is evenly impressed with only slight doubling along the horse's snout and forelegs. Exceptional for the grade.

- 437 Edward VI, fine silver coinage, crown, mm. y, 1551, crowned figure of king on horseback r., shouldering sword, date below, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2478), slight weakness on back of horse and corresponding area on reverse, otherwise a really good very fine or better with a good portrait of the king £2000-2500

- 438 Edward VI, fine silver coinage, shilling, mm. y, crowned bust facing between rose and mark of value, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2482), good very fine, bright, virtually as struck £300-350

The very model of quality, showing very little actual wear, on a simply wonderful flan without bruises and of splendid colour. The cataloguers cannot recall seeing a more appealing example at this grade level.

- 439 Edward VI, fine silver coinage, shilling, mm. y, crowned bust facing between rose and mark of value, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2482), good very fine, bright, virtually as struck £300-350

- 440 Edward VI, fine silver coinage, shilling, mm. y, crowned bust facing between rose and mark of value, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2482), good very fine, bright, virtually as struck £300-350

- 441 Mary, fine sovereign, mm. pomegranate, 1553, crowned figure of queen enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, portcullis at feet, rev. shield of arms at centre of full-blown rose (S.2488), a really good very fine, very rare £7500-8500

Excellent old-gold colour, with a pleasing portrait of Mary's face (so often not struck up), on a flan which is nearly perfect, delightfully round. Clear legends showing no noticeable doubling. Equally, the reverse has no detriments, only positive qualities, and is equally well defined. Normal slight waviness to the flan. Considering the numerous details emblematic of royalty present on this coin, it's a minter's masterpiece.

- 442 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, pound, mm. woolpack, crowned bust of queen l., wearing elaborate dress, rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2534), the slightly scarcer variety with mintmark at the end of legend, a magnificent piece, extremely fine with a superb portrait £5000-6000

Beautifully rendered and sharply struck, of exceptionally broad flan, this coin gleams with ancient lustre and is made the more elegant by a finely patinated toning. A similar portrait of the queen may be found among the National Portrait Gallery's paintings; however, that piece of artwork is unobtainable, but this portrait, equally elegant, can be won and privately cherished by the highest bidder.

- 443 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, halfpound, mm. tun, crowned bust of queen l., wearing elaborate dress, rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2535; B&C G22), a superb coin, crisply struck, about mint state and rare thus £5000-6000

This auction contains a number of exceptionally nice hammered gold coins which have been off the market for many years. This coin is no exception. The flan is fully found and well made without waves or cracks, which so often plague these large, very thin, handmade coins. Here the queen's visage is boldly rendered, and on the opposite side the regal shield, crown and initials are all fully detailed. Legends on both sides are marked by bright, deeply impressed gold with virtually no wear or diminishment of the lustre, although the letters of the queen's name are slightly doubled. The portrait is about as finely detailed and clear as anyone could wish for. Obviously, this coin has been treasured for centuries as an artistic masterpiece of its era.

- 444 Elizabeth I, fifth issue, gold crown, mm. tun, crowned bust of queen l., wearing elaborate dress, rev. crowned shield of arms, ER at sides (S.2536), slightly creased but very fine or better on a full flan £1400-1500

- 445 Elizabeth I, sixth issue, crown, mm. 1, crowned bust l., with orb and sceptre, rev. shield of arms over long cross fourchee (S.2582), face very slightly weak, otherwise about extremely fine £3200-3500
- 446 Elizabeth I, sixpence, mm. star, 1562, crowned bust l., rose behind, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms (S.2596); George III, sixpence, 1816, laur. head r., rev. crowned shield within garter (S.3791); Victoria, shilling, 1874, young head l., rev. value within wreath (S.3906A), the first fair, others extremely fine (3) £90-100

- 447 James I, second coinage, rose ryal, mm. escallop, crowned figure of king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, portcullis at feet, rev. shield of arms at centre of full-blown rose (S.2613), very lightly creased, otherwise good very fine to extremely fine with an excellent portrait £2700-3000

- 448 James I, second coinage, rose ryal, mm. rose, crowned figure of king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, portcullis at feet, rev. shield of arms at centre of full-blown rose (S.2613), some oxydisation from contact with soil or sea water, an odd colour, otherwise very fine £2000-2200

- 449 James I, second coinage, spur ryal, mm. escallop, crowned figure of king with sword and shield stg. facing in ship, rev. rose at centre of ornate cross, crowned lions in angles (S.2614; Schneider – this mintmark not represented), a superb coin, beautifully struck, extremely fine £12500-15000
 *ex SNC December 1972 (11576)
 probably ex Lockett, part VII, November 1958 (lot 3314)

Most catalogues say little about this wonderfully designed coin, but in fact no other British gold coin shows a man o' war, a one-time (on this coin alone) updating of the long-lived gold angel. Rife with symbolism, this coin shows the royal standard on the ship's bow, with a Latinate "J" (or "I" for IACOBUS) figuratively flapping in the wind, leading the ship forward. As well, four lions passant alternate with four crowned lis, age-old claims to sovereignty over Scotland and France; these in turn surround a blossomed Tudor rose with a sunburst around it (which Sutherland describes as the spur for which the coin is named, 'from the ability to regard the sun in glory'). The so-called scallop initial mark is more likely a seashell, yet another emblem of a powerful seafaring nation. Few coins in history were so marvellously conceived. This is a great example of a truly rare coin, boldly detailed, with sharp letters in all the legend, a nearly perfect, full flan, an intricately detailed shield held by the king, and beautiful gold colour.

- 450 James I, second coinage, Britain crown, mm. tun, fifth bust crowned r., rev. crowned shield of arms, IR above (S.2626), good very fine on a full flan with a strong portrait £450-500

- 451 James I, second coinage, thistle crown, mm. lis, crowned rose between IR, rev. crowned thistle between IR (S.2627), good very fine £500-550

- 452 James I, third coinage, rose ryal, mm. spur rowel, crowned figure of king enthroned facing, holding orb and sceptre, portcullis at feet, rev. long cross fourchee over shield of arms, mark of value above, all within ornate border (S.2632; Schneider 77), scarce, good very fine to extremely fine with a good portrait £4000-5000

Difficult to locate this fine, and seldom found better. Handsome gold colour, together with a full round flan generally well struck throughout all features of the design on both sides. To some collectors, the ultimate details desired on these enthroned issues are the small features of the monarch's face. Here, the portrait can almost be called sensitive, as it shows such sharp detail, right down to the outline of the king's eyes. Legends are especially sharp as well. There is a small amount of scuffing to the right of the reverse shield.

- 453 Charles I, triple unite, Oxford mint, mm. plume/-, crowned bust of king I., holding sword and olive branch, plume behind, rev. declaration on scroll between mark of value and date, three plumes above (S.2727), one or two slight weak spots on reverse, otherwise good very fine £14000-16000

A really well-balanced coin on a full round flan with legend details clear to the very edge, and a nearly complete outer beaded or denticled rim on reverse. Precious few marks of any kind. Lovely old colour, too. Sutherland's comments are revealing: Charles I's father 'James had been conspicuously lacking in elegance, but he was experienced and politically shrewd. Charles' elegance and taste [as the nation's foremost art collector] were no compensation for his inexperience, obstinacy, and political blindness in imposing illegal levels of taxation upon his people and in attempting to arrest members of Parliament who opposed his views and actions. He paid the ultimate price, of course, but during his reign he preserved the integrity of his money, even unto the largest of all gold coins ever struck in England, the triple unite of 420 grains of gold, and 22 ct fine.

- 471 Charles I, Exeter mint, halfcrown, mm. rose, 1645, crowned figure of king on horseback, brandishing sword, rev. oval, garnished shield (S.3076; Brooker 1055, same obverse die), beautifully toned, about mint state, very rare thus £1800-2200
 *ex Clonterbrook sale, Glendinings, June 1974 (lot 254); Lockett, part VII, Glendinings, November 1958 (lot 3516)

Ancient dark patina with some golden blue iridescence. Tiny details of the die-work remain in evidence, so slight is the wear. Normal flan shape for this mint. Important pedigree. An exceptional specimen.

- 472 Charles I, Worcester mint, halfcrown, mm. leopard's head/-, crowned figure of king on horseback, brandishing sword, rev. crowned oval, garnished shield, large stars in legend (S.3106; Brooker 1157), toned, very fine or better for issue and extremely rare £1600-2000
 *ex Lockett, part VII, Glendinings, November 1958 (lot 3524)

Difficult for all but the seasoned collector to grade, here is an especially fine example of this crudely minted coin of the Civil War, most likely struck 1643-44. The Worcester mint, at Hartlebury Castle, geographically almost exactly halfway between Oxford and Shrewsbury, first struck coins during the reign of William I but only occasionally thereafter, lastly 'in the desperate days of 1646', notes Sutherland. Here is an historically significant coin, once part of the great Lockett Collection.

- 473 Charles I, Carlisle besieged, shilling, 1645, crown above CR, trefoils of pellets at sides, rev. OBCARL, date below (S.3139), extremely rare, usual die crack on reverse, very fine or better, a very desirable coin. Certainly one of the best examples to come on to the market in many years £6000-8000
 *ex Glendining Sale, 14 December 1966 (lot 165)

By the autumn of 1644, much of northern England was under the control of Parliament. Carlisle, which remained loyal to the king, was blockaded by a Scots army under the command of David Leslie from October to June the following year. In May 1645, an emergency issue of three-shilling and one-shilling coins was struck from silver plate supplied by the besieged citizens. Interestingly, these coins were tarified at more than their intrinsic silver value – six shillings face being produced from five shillings' worth of metal. These coins were produced, and survive, in much smaller quantities than the contemporary siege issue from Newark.

- 474 Charles I, Newark besieged, halfcrown, 1645, arched crown between CR, mark of value below, rev. OBS NEWARK, date below (S.3140), one or two slight die cracks, otherwise toned, better than very fine, the rarer of the two dates £1300-1500

- 475 Commonwealth, unite, mm. sun, 1653, English shield of arms within wreath, rev. conjoined shields, mark of value above (S.3208), bright, better than extremely fine £2800-3200

- 476 Commonwealth, crown, 1656/4, English shield of arms within wreath, rev. conjoined shields, mark of value above (S.3214; ESC.9), obverse slightly weak between 4 and 6 o'clock, the obverse struck slightly off-centre and noticeably doubled on outer beading at 9 o'clock, otherwise extremely fine, reverse is quite magnificent, superbly toned and mint state £2000-2500

First used briefly as a circulating medium, then after 1660 despised even as a memento, the massive silver crowns of the Commonwealth seldom survived above very fine or without intentional damage. Here is a coin reminiscent of the nicest coins in the Slaney Collection, and rare indeed in this state of preservation.

- 477 Commonwealth, halfcrowns, 1652, 1654, English shield of arms within wreath, rev. conjoined shields, mark of value above (S.3215), fine to very fine, the second toned (2) £400-450

- 478 Oliver Cromwell, broad, 1656, by Simon, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3225), good very fine to extremely fine, an attractive coin £5500-6500

- 479 Oliver Cromwell, crown, by Simon, 1658/7, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3226), usual die flaw across drapery, good extremely fine £3200-3700

- 480 Oliver Cromwell, crown, by Simon, 1658/7, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3226), usual die flaw across drapery, about extremely fine £3000-3500

- 481 Oliver Cromwell, halfcrown, 1658, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3227A; ESC.447), the Cromwell halfcrown is a coin that normally turns up in reasonably high grade; this piece however is quite exceptional, deeply toned and struck like a proof, mint state and rare thus £3000-3500

- 482 Oliver Cromwell, shilling, 1658, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3228), nicely toned, good extremely fine or better £1500-2000

- 483 Charles II, hammered coinage, second issue, unite, mm. crown, laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. crowned, oval, garnished shield, CR at sides (S.3304), a superb specimen, lightly toned and about mint state, rare thus £4500-5000

An extraordinary example showing bold details on both sides, deeply set inside higher borders. On the reverse, even some minute die-work shows around the devices. Few exist this nice. Struck shortly after king Charles returned in jubilation from years of exile in the court of Louis XIV, to which he had fled as a youth to escape the wrath of the Oliver Cromwell.

- 484 Charles II, hammered coinage, second issue, unite, mm. crown, laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. crowned, oval, garnished shield, CR at sides (S. 3304), extremely fine, with proof-like fields £2800-3000

- 485 Charles II, hammered coinage, second issue, unite, mm. crown, laur. bust l., mark of value behind, rev. crowned, oval garnished shield, CR at sides (S.3304), about very fine £1800-2000

- 486 Charles II, five guineas, 1675, V. SEPTIMO, first laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3327), very slight metal flaw on obverse, one or two scuffs, otherwise extremely fine or better with proof-like fields, scarce £6000-6500

- 487 Charles II, five guineas, 1677, V. NONO, first laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3328), good fine to about very fine £2000-2200

- 488 Charles II, guinea, 1679, fourth laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3344); William III, guinea, 1695(?) laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3458), both fair, date indistinct on second (2) £200-220

- 489 Charles II, sixpences, 1674 (2), laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked C's in angles (S.3382), fine to about very fine (2) £70-90

- 490 James II, guinea, 1685, first laur. head l., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3400), only fair £160-200

- 491 James II, guinea, 1685, first laur. head l., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3400), very good £200-220

- 492 James II, crown, 1687, TERTIO, laur. bust l., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3407), a quite magnificent piece, well struck with beautiful toning, mint state. Graded by NGC mint state 64. £2000-2200

A bit flatly struck at the top forelocks, and some corresponding soft areas on the reverse, and exhibiting tiny tin flecks (so-called haymarks), but nonetheless a delightful coin of total originality, a quality so highly desired by today's collectors. Rare.

- 494 William and Mary, penny, 1689, conjoined laur. heads r., rev. crowned mark of value (S.3444), error legend GVIELMVS, good very fine to extremely fine, extremely rare £500-700

No problems, just even wear. Usual die-work and slight doubling on the king's profile. Pleasant patinated toning. The penny is the key to the silver coinage of this reign.

- 495 William III, sixpences, 1696, 1697, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3520/38), good very fine to extremely fine (2) £80-100

- 496 Anne, guinea, 1713, third bust l., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3574), good fine £250-300

- 497 Anne, sixpence, 1703, Vigo, bust l., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3590), about extremely fine £120-140

- 498 Anne, shilling, 1708, bust l., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3610), practically mint state. Graded by NGC mint state 63 £200-250

- 499 Anne, shilling, 1712, roses and plumes, bust l., rev. crowned cruciform shields, roses and plumes in angles (S.3617), very light die flaw on face, deeply toned, extremely fine to mint state £200-250

- 500 George I, guinea, 1715, third laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3630), slight reverse flan flaw, fine £220-250

- 501 George I, guinea, 1719, laur. head r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, sceptres in angles (S.3631), about uncirculated £2400-2600

- 502 George I, crown, 1716, SECUNDO, roses and plumes, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, roses and plumes in angles (S.3639), the obverse has light toning, the reverse attractively toned, extremely fine to mint state, an outstanding coin £2000-2500

- 503 George I, sixpence, 1723 SSC, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, SS C in angles (S.3652), about very fine £60-80

- 505 George III, guinea, 1767, third laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3727), fine, a scarce year £160-180

- 506 George III, guinea, 1787, fifth laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3729), very fine £200-220

- 507 George III, guinea, 1787, fifth laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3729), about very fine £130-150

- 510 George III, guinea, 1793, fifth laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3729), fine £110-130

- 511 George III, half guinea, 1804, seventh laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms within garter (S.3737); half sovereign, 1817, laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3786), the first about extremely fine, the second very fine with scratches both sides (2) £200-220

- 512 George III, 'Northumberland' shilling, 1763, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3742), about mint state £800-900

- 513 George III, 'Northumberland' shilling, 1763, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3742), good very fine £500-550

- 514 George III, dollar, oval countermarked on portrait 8 reales of Charles IV of Spain, 1790FM, Mexico City (S.3765A), coin and counterstamp very fine or better £200-250
- 515 George III, dollar, 1804, laur. bust r., rev. Britannia seated l. (S.3768); Charles II, crown, 1680, laur. bust r., rev. crowned cruciform shields, interlinked C's in angles (S.3359), the first good fine, the second about fine (2) £100-120

- 516 George III, restrike proof or pattern set in bronzed copper, twopence, penny, halfpenny, farthing, 1805, laur. bust r., rev. Britannia std. l., holding trident and olive branch (S. -; Peck. R93 / R89[var] / R91[var] / R95), these coins were housed in a display cabinet for over a century, hence they are slightly toned on one side, otherwise all about mint state, rare (4) £1500-2000

- 517 George III, late Soho proof set in copper, penny, halfpenny, farthing, 1806, laur. bust r., rev. Britannia std. l., shouldering trident and holding olive branch (S.3780 / 81 / 82; Peck KP30 / KH35 / KF13), a few light hairlines, otherwise FDC and choice (3) £500-550

- 519 George III, half sovereign, 1817, laur. head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3786), mint state £300-350

- 520 George III, pattern crown, 1817, by W Wyon, the 'Incorrupta Crown', laur. head r., date below, W. WYON below truncation, rev. crowned shield of arms (somewhat similar in style to the Cromwell crown), edge plain (ESC.229), very rare, a magnificent piece, beautifully toned, about FDC. Graded by NGC Proof 65 £6000-7000

One of the most famous crowns of the English series, with the masterful classical bust by the head of the Wyon family of engravers. Its popular name 'Incorrupta' derives from the the reverse legend, in Latin, which translates as 'An Untarnished Faith', or roughly 'A Faith that is Beyond Corruption' or incorruptible. The shield which this legend surrounds is both simple and undernably elegant.

*ex Willis Sale (part II), Glendinings, 1991; Lingford (lot 498)

Normally seen in copper, the Hercules crown in silver is among the most interesting, imaginative patterns created during the fanciful Georgian age. It was probably much liked by the prince who was about to become George IV. Struck during this transitional year in the Regency, this may well explain its lack of a portrait. Comes from two great prior owners, both remembered for the high quality of their coins.

- 522 George III, halfcrown, 1816, laur. 'bull' bust r., rev. crowned shield of arms within garter (S.3788); George IV, halfcrown, 1820, laur. head l., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3807), both toned about extremely fine or better (2) £130-140

- 523 George IV, two pounds, 1823, bare head l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3798), mint state £1500-2000

- 525 George IV, pattern crown, 1825, bare head l., rev. crowned helmet over ornate shield of arms, edge plain (S.3806; ESC.255), much scarcer than the similar 1826 coin, superb mint state with attractive toning £4500-5000

This is of course the prototype pattern for the elegant proof-only second issue crown of George IV, based on the marble model by the sculptor Chantrey, so favoured by the king. While the portrait is meant to harken the then-educated public's mind back to the busts of the Caesars, it is the Hanover shield on the coin's reverse that is the true masterpiece of numismatic engraving. It is one of only a few modern (milled) coins worthy of the kind of study given to medieval and ancient coinage details.

- 526 George IV, proof penny, 1826, laur. head l., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3823), about FDC £200-250

- 528 George IV, proof farthing, 1826, laur. head l., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3825), FDC £150-180

- 529 William IV, sovereign, 1837, bare head r., rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3829B), eight of date slightly double-struck, very slight edge bruise on reverse, otherwise extremely fine or better £500-550

- 530 William IV, pattern crown, 1834, bare head r., rev. crowned shield of arms over mantle, edge plain (S.3833; ESC.275), extremely rare, a magnificent piece, beautifully toned, FDC and choice, certainly the best example to come on to the market for some years £10000-12000
*ex J. J. Pittman Sale, D. Akers, 1999

A great rarity, as the only other dated silver crown of the Sailor King, Victoria's uncle, aside from the coronation coin of 1831. While called a pattern, the question must be posited, a pattern for what? More likely this coin should be called a Proof of Record, which in fact should add to its allure. This wonderful piece combines the artistry of William Wyon's portrait with the exquisite draped shield which was the conception and work of J.B. Merlen. Around the royal shield is the Order of the Garter with the pendant badge of St George slaying the dragon at the bottom. In a modern coin, this specimen has to represent the apex of emblematic heraldry.

- 531 William IV, proof halfpenny, 1831, bare head r., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident, die axis ↑↓ (S.3847), choice FDC £200-250

- 532 William IV, proof farthing, 1831, bare head r., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3848), choice FDC £150-200

- 533 Victoria, five pounds, 1839, 'Una and the lion', lettered edge, young head l., rev. crowned figure of the queen as Una stg. l., holding orb and sceptre, lion behind, date below (S.3851; W.&R.279), one or two light hairlines, otherwise a brilliant proof, about FDC £17000-18000

Some noticeable but mild hairlines particularly beneath the truncation; and on the reverse, in the exergue and in the field between the queen and the lion. Nonetheless, heavily frosted devices on both sides, and a very attractive example of this, perhaps the most popular of all Victorian coins.

- 534 Victoria, five pounds, 1887, crowned 'Jubilee' bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3864), about mint state £500-550

- 535 Victoria, five pounds, 1887, crowned 'Jubilee' bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3864), extremely fine to uncirculated £450-500

- 536 Victoria, five pounds, 1887, crowned 'Jubilee' bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3864), several edge bruises, otherwise very fine or better £360-380

- 537 Victoria, five pounds, 1887, crowned 'Jubilee' bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3864), a few light scratches on obverse, otherwise about extremely fine £360-380

- 538 Victoria, proof two pounds, 1887, crowned 'Jubilee' bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon, no B.P. in exergue (S.3865var), unpriced in Standard Catalogue, choice FDC £1500-2000

- 539 Victoria, five pounds, 1893, crowned, veiled bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3872), a few scuffs, otherwise about mint state £900-1000

- 540 Victoria, five pounds, 1893, crowned, veiled bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3872), extremely fine £620-650

- 541 Victoria, five pounds, 1893, crowned, veiled bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3872), good very fine £580-600

- 542 Victoria, two pounds, 1893, crowned, veiled bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3873), about uncirculated £400-450

- 543 Victoria, two pounds, 1893, crowned, veiled bust l., rev. St. George and the dragon (S.3873), mint state

- 544 Victoria, proof crown, 1839, plain edge, young head l., rev. crowned shield of arms within wreath (S.3882), as issued in the proof set, deeply toned, about FDC, a superb coin
£3500-4000

- 545 Victoria, crown, 1844, cinquefoil edge stops, young head l., rev. crowned shield of arms within wreath (S.3882; ESC.281), niceily toned, about mint state and rare in this condition
£1750-2000

A few tiny ticks on Victoria's neck, and the merest hint of wear. Sharp definition in the forelocks, sometimes weakly impressed. Overall, a beautifully balanced coin, therefore highly desirable. Relatively few Victoria Young Head crowns exist in full mint state.

£1000-1200

£1200-1400

- 548 Victoria, crown, 1847, undecimo, crowned 'gothic' bust l., rev. crowned, cruciform shields (S.3883; ESC.288), light scuffs in obverse field, otherwise about uncirculated £1000-1200

- 549 Victoria, crown, 1847, crowned 'gothic' bust l., rev. crowned, cruciform shields, plain edge (S.3883; ESC.291), attractive toning, about FDC £1200-1400

- 550 Victoria, crown, 1847, undecimo, crowned 'gothic' bust l., rev. crowned, cruciform shields, lettered edge (S.3883; ESC.288), one or two light hairlines in field, otherwise nicely toned, about mint state £1200-1400

- 551 Victoria, proof shilling, 1839, young head l., rev. value within wreath (S.3904), about FDC £300-350

- 552 Victoria, shilling, 1850, young head l., rev. value within wreath (S.3904), a very rare date, about fine £120-140

- 553 Victoria, proof groat, 1839, young head l., rev. Britannia std. l., with shield and trident, die axis ↑↓ (S.3913), about FDC £220-250

- 554 Victoria, proof maundy set, 1839, young head l., rev. crowned mark of value within wreath (S.3916), as issued in the proof set, toned, about FDC (4) £200-250

- 555 Victoria, penny, 1861, 8 of date over 6, young bust l., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3954; Freeman 33a; BP.1861P [R9]), extremely rare, mint state with full lustre. Of the 3 to 5 specimens known, this is the finest by far; the next best grades good very fine £2000-3000

A marvelous specimen in all respects, possessing remarkable lustre and most pleasing, perfectly balanced surfaces with nary a mark, even the most microscopic. Unpriced in the Spink standard catalogue in this grade because of the rarity of its appearance. We expect bids well within or above our estimate from knowing specialists in this popular series.

- 556 Victoria, penny, 1867, young bust l., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3954), slight speck by last digit of date, practically mint state with full lustre, very rare this choice £400-500
- 557 Victoria, penny, 1891, young bust l., rev. Britannia std. r., with shield and trident (S.3954), mint state £80-100

The seven coins grade good very fine to about uncirculated. Presented in a contemporary, custom-made, octagonal, velvet-lined display case with bevelled glazing back and front. No. 2 of a limited edition of 4, "largest coin of each reign", retailed for £30/-/- . A wonderful piece of numismatic history, possibly unique (7) £4000-5000

Quite why a groat of Edward I was not included in a set of "largest" coins is not easy to explain. Perhaps Spink's did not have four in stock at the time to fill the order, or perhaps they viewed the groat as not being currency. Reference to part II of the Montagu sale (1896) will find the three specimens there described as "patterns"; a similar description is to be found in Murdoch, part I (1903). The inclusion of two Edward I pennies with no Edward II is less surprising. Although a satisfactory chronology of Edwardian sterlings was published by Burns in his "Coinage of Scotland" (1887), this was as unrecognised a century ago as it remains today. The definitive classification evolved by the Fox brothers was only published in the BNJ from 1910 onwards.
